

Rotations and the Spin $1/2$ Particle in a Magnetic Field

J. Emmanuel Flores

October 12, 2024

Advanced Mathematical Methods, Tufts University

Contents

Spinor Representation

Some Motivation

- The existence of spin $1/2$ particle shows that $Spin(3)$ rather than $SO(3)$ is the symmetry group corresponding of rotations of fundamental quantum systems.